Primos Maternos Parish Email Campaign

Our Lady of Guadalupe — Parish Outreach

This three-email sequence is designed for direct outreach from the Primos Maternos Google Business/Gmail account to Catholic parishes with an interest in Our Lady of Guadalupe.

The campaign emphasizes the documented provenance of the source image while carefully distinguishing the historical certifications from the modern canvas reproductions, which are printed in the United States.

Email 1 — Introduction

Suggested timing: Day 1

Subject: Our Lady of Guadalupe for Your Parish

Father [Last Name] / [Parish Name],

I'm reaching out from Primos Maternos regarding our 24" × 36" rolled canvas reproduction of Our Lady of Guadalupe.

What makes this image especially meaningful is its documented Mexican provenance.

A certification dated December 12, 1998, signed by Cardinal Norberto Rivera Carrera, Archbishop Primate of Mexico, certifies the associated reproduction as a "faithful reproduction of the digital archive of the Sacred Original" of Our Lady of Guadalupe.

The certificate identifies Digital Color, S.A. de C.V. with the digital capture and reproduction.

A second historical certification records that the image known as the Virgen Peregrina was blessed by Pope John Paul II on January 25, 1999, and subsequently traveled throughout Mexico during the Great Jubilee period.

Our canvases are printed in the United States from this documented digital-image lineage.

The 24" × 36" rolled canvas is $114 with free shipping in the U.S. and Puerto Rico.

It can be displayed in a church, chapel, parish hall, school, ministry space, or framed for a permanent parish installation.

Email 2 — Provenance Follow-Up

Suggested timing: 4–5 days after Email 1

Subject: The documented history behind our Guadalupe image

Father [Last Name],

I wanted to follow up because the history behind our Our Lady of Guadalupe image may be of particular interest to your parish.

We have preserved two Mexican certifications associated with the image.

One, dated December 12, 1998, is signed by Cardinal Norberto Rivera Carrera and describes the associated print as a:

“reproducción fiel del archivo digital del Sagrado Original”

— a “faithful reproduction of the digital archive of the Sacred Original.”

The certification also identifies Digital Color, S.A. de C.V. with the digital capture and reproduction.

The second certification records that the Virgen Peregrina was blessed by Pope John Paul II on January 25, 1999, before traveling throughout Mexico from January 1999 through April 2000 in connection with the Great Jubilee.

We’ve put the documentation, translations, and historical background together so parishes can review the provenance themselves:

Our current 24” × 36” canvases are printed in the USA and shipped rolled. They are $114 with free U.S. and Puerto Rico shipping.

Thank you,

William Leonard

Email 3 — Final Follow-Up

Suggested timing: 6–7 days after Email 2

Subject: A final note about Our Lady of Guadalupe

Father [Last Name],

Just one final note regarding the Our Lady of Guadalupe canvas I sent you information about.

For a parish considering an image for a church, chapel, school, ministry space, or Guadalupe celebration, I thought it was important to make the historical documentation available rather than simply make an “authenticity” claim.

The surviving Mexican certifications document:

- Cardinal Norberto Rivera Carrera’s December 12, 1998 certification that the associated print was a faithful reproduction of the digital archive of the Sacred Original.
- Digital Color, S.A. de C.V. in connection with the digital capture and reproduction.
- The January 25, 1999 blessing by Pope John Paul II of the image known as the Virgen Peregrina.
- Its subsequent pilgrimage throughout Mexico during the Great Jubilee period.

Campaign Notes

- Send from the Primos Maternos Google Business/Gmail account.
- Personalize the parish name and priest/pastoral contact whenever possible.
- Use the Provenance & Certification page as the primary supporting link, especially in Email 2.
- Do not describe each current canvas as individually certified or blessed.
- Do not state that the current canvases are printed in Mexico; they are printed in the United States.
- The strongest documented fidelity language is the 1998 certification phrase:
“reproducción fiel del archivo digital del Sagrado Original” – “faithful reproduction of the digital archive of the Sacred Original.”
- Replace [PROVENANCE PAGE URL] after the new page is published on PrimosMaternos.com.
